

graphs by Anthony Cassidy with Christoph Baumer et al. [4th ed.]. Odyssey, 2010. 447p bibl index ISBN 9789622178120 pbk, $24.95

This fourth edition of Odyssey's travel guide to Iran packs a hefty weight, both physically and in its content. Written by scholarly experts who have traveled extensively in the area, this is no ordinary travel book. Chapters on historical background are comprehensive, moving from prehistory to the present. In-depth descriptions for nine geographical areas delve into local geography, landmarks, and advice about what to see and how to get there. The geography chapter includes discussions of ethnic groups and water issues; facts for the traveler cover practical aspects such as clothing, visas, and shopping. Short "Special Topic" sections are interspersed throughout, contributing interesting digressions in areas such as cinema, food, and music. Plentiful color maps provide terrain details and information on roads, towns, and UNESCO World Heritage sites. The expected guidebook inclusions of useful Web sites, a list of hotels, a glossary, and a language guide are augmented by recommended subject area readings. With its depth of information, this compact volume will enlighten students and faculty whether they are seeking basic information or conducting research as armchair or active travelers. Summing Up: Recommended. ★★ Lower-level undergraduates and above; general readers.—J. M. Hutton, West Chester University of Pennsylvania

48-2452 Z7164 2009-1315 CIP
Johnson, Stephen K. The Harvard Business Review annotated bibliography: all articles, 1922 through 2007, with indexes to authors, titles and subjects. McFarland, 2010. 463p indexes afp ISBN 9780786441822, $95.00

In this annotated bibliography, Johnson (library, Univ. of South Dakota) provides "a valuable source of information and reference tool," which he hopes "can trigger greater use in classroom discussion in college campuses and other organizations." Organized into 14 broad topics and then by hundreds of narrow topics, this volume is based on a classification scheme "that one might find in a university's school of business." The annotated bibliography also includes indexes to authors, titles, and subjects. Although the author index lacks an entry for Warren Bennis, a frequent contributor to the Harvard Business Review (HBR), this volume is valuable because it allows readers to look through 85 years of articles in one place. Whereas EBSCO's Business Source Premier (Business Source Complete, CH, Feb'07, 44-3035) provides full-text access to HBR articles since 1922, the subscription cost is prohibitive for some libraries. Access to HBR via ProQuest is limited to citations for articles published since 1971, and WilsonWeb Journal Directory dates back to 1924 but does not index HBR entirely. Moreover, HBR's own public site provides limited access to articles, beginning in 1956. Johnson's book, which required nine years of research, offer users a one-volume source to "examine a broad range of classification terms when searching for articles relevant to one's subject-specific needs" as they relate to HBR. Summing Up: Recommended. ★★ Public and academic libraries; lower-level undergraduates through graduate students, and general readers.—E. M. Tinoco, University of Southern California

48-2453 [Internet Resource]
London Lives 1690 to 1800, from HRI Online Publications.
URL: <http://www.londonlives.org/index.jsp>

[Visited Oct'10] This resource features "a wide range of primary sources about eighteenth-century London, with a particular focus on plebeian Londoners." Included are 240,000-plus manuscript/printed pages and 15 data sets. London Lives facilitates historical research on poverty.

BOYDELL & BREWER

WINNER!
CHOICE Outstanding
Academic Title

Peace versus Justice?

The Dilemmas of Transitional Justice in Africa

EDITED BY CHANDRA LEKHA SRIRAM & SUREN PILLAY

$37.95, 9781847010216, pbk

JAMES CURREY

Obasanjo, Nigeria and the World

JOHN ILIFFE

$80.00, January 2011, 9781847010278

JAMES CURREY

War Veterans in Zimbabwe's Revolution:
Challenging neo-colonialism and settler
and international capital

ZVAKANYORWA WILBERT SADOMBA

$70.00, January 2011, 9781847010254

JAMES CURREY

Land, Governance, Conflict and the Nuba of Sudan

GUMA KUNDA KOMIY

$70.00, December 2010, 9781847010261

JAMES CURREY

"Now available in paperback!"

Ira Aldridge: The African Roscius

EDITED BY BERNATH LINDFORS

$29.95, December 2010, 9781850463744, pbk

UNIVERSITY OF ROCHESTER PRESS

WWW.BOYDELLANDBREWER.COM